"Everyone deserves to live life in abundance-spiritually, mentally, physically, professionally and financially. This technology allows me to come into the living rooms, classrooms, and offices around the world and share how Living the Five Wealth Principles can lead to the success individuals desire, but more importantly, the success they deserve.

Through his book, Living the Five Wealth Principles, the LFWP LifePlan for Success Seminars and materials, and the Visions Entrepreneurship Education and Leadership Academy Programs for Youth, Harris is certainly living up to his commitment to enhance the lives he touches.

When asked about the motivating force behind his work, Harris says that he feels a responsibility to help individuals not only put into perspective where they are in life and evaluate where they desire to be, but to also teach them how to develop a successful "LifePlan" that will get them there. "Success", he says, "lies just beyond your circumstance. Life works, you just have to work it!"
